

September 18, 1947.

Prof. P.R. Burkholder,
Osborn Botanical Lab.,
Yale University,
New Haven, Conn.

Dear Dr. Burkholder,

I talked to Ryan last week, and I think he would be not unamenable to joining the AAAS program that we discussed. Except to emphasize that some ex-Stanford people should be invited, I can think of no important further suggestions.

Secondly, this letter should remind you of my earlier request for half-a-dozen or so cultures of subtilis mutants, which we should be in a position to handle very soon. The situation still looks quite attractive here, although it will be probably more than a year before my permanent lab can be completely outfitted, and there will be only more or less temporary facilities meantime.

See you in Chicago then,

Best Regards,

Yours sincerely,

J. Lederberg.